

Courses taught in English at School of Law/ Graduate School of Law and Politics

1. Courses taught in English

The followings are those offered in academic year 2025-2026. Note that some of the courses might be canceled and thus unavailable in academic year 2026-2027.

Spring Semester (Spring and Summer terms)
[Semester course] Introduction to Comparative Law Introduction to Japanese Law Islamic Family Law International Economics II Economic Development
[Intensive course] Comparative Constitutional Law Poverty Measurement
Fall Semester (Fall and Winter terms)
[Semester course] Introduction to Common Law Law and Society in the Middle East Private Law in Japan Environment and Development Introduction of International Economic Law: Basic issues and cases Data Management Gateway to Europe - Contemporary Dutch Studies Economics of Crime Introduction to International Law of the Sea
[Intensive course] Mediation : Advanced

2. Web Syllabus

https://koan.osaka-u.ac.jp/campusweb/campussquare.do?_flowId=SYW4201600-flow&locale=ja_JP

*Note: The information for academic year 2026-2027 will be updated between February and March 2026 before the academic year starts.